“The Forestry Challenge was an amazing experience for students to learn by doing. Learning real forestry and natural resource skills from professionals and alongside other students from 20 different schools made for an excellent overall experience.”

“I am so grateful for the opportunity to bring my students to the Forestry Challenge. The real-life science experience is not something that can be taught in a classroom. To be immersed in nature and work as a team to solve problems in something that is a life skill that they will be able to apply in the future.”

“I always look forward to bringing students to the forestry challenge. I know that they will learn a lot, be exposed to a lot of new topics and perspectives and will have a great time out in the woods.”

“Forestry Challenge is a transformative experience for students and teachers alike.”

“Forestry Challenge is an immersive and transformational experience, tailored to high school students and everyone leaves with so many new skills and ideas.”
